The Night's Winning Looks

WHETHER IN A SLEEK STYLE
OR BRIGHT COLOR (OR BOTH!),
THESE STARS BROUGHT ALL
THE GLAMOUR

NICOLE KIDMAN

It took 200 hours to sew thousands of sequins and crystals onto the Big Little Lies and Bombshell nominee's custom Michael Kors Collection gown, which she wore with Alexandre Birman heels and sapphire, amethyst and black diamond Lydia Courteille earrings.

CYNTHIA ERIVO

The Harriet nominee gave a shout out to her "glamily" for helping her transform into "the belle of the ball" in a custom hot pink Schiaparelli Haute Couture ball gown and more than $1 million worth of Roberto Coin jewelry. "I feel very special in this dress," she said on the red carpet.

ZOE KRAVITZ

Inspired by First Lady Jackie Kennedy on a state visit to India in 1962, the Big Little Lies nominee's custom Oscar de la Renta column brought an air of vintage elegance to the show. White opera gloves and Tiffany & Co. pearl earrings added to the throwback vibe.

RENEE ZELLWEGER

Wearing the structured shape she loves best, the Judy winner nailed it in a custom midnight blue satin Maison Margiela Haute Couture design featuring pleating, a high slit and pockets. Jimmy Choo stilettos, a Cartier bracelet and a playful ponytail finished the polished look.

CHARLIZE THERON

To add even more sparkle to her custom Givenchy Haute Couture two-piece, the Bombshell nominee piled on more than $4 million in Tiffany & Co. jewels, including a diamond bracelet that hairstylist Adir Abergel attached to her part. "I didn't have time to do my roots," she told People.

REESE WITHERSPOON

The Big Little Lies nominee's beaded, one-shoulder Celine gown (with that thigh-high slit!) was a hit even before she set foot on the red carpet. She revealed the look—which she styled with Harry Winston diamonds and a classic red lip—on Instagram to 765,622 likes (and counting!).

SCARLETT JOHANSSON

The Marriage Story nominee said she had been "violently ill" just days before the ceremony, but she looked to be on the mend in a plunging, custom Armani Privé teal blue dress (with crystal-embroidered straps in the back), more than 55 carats of Taffin jewelry and a bold lip.

SOPHIE TURNER

"She's really daring and willing to go there," stylist Kate Young said of dressing the Game of Thrones nominee, who turned heads in a custom fuchsia Louis Vuitton strapless belted bustier gown with accessories by the label, and hair styled in effortless waves.
